Prologue

Everyday thousands of people depart the Bangalore airport, and live back their daily life, ignoring any change. They never know a slight change in themselves can result in miracles. And Roy too was one of them, until he met GURU, the man who uses simple 21 piece jigsaw puzzles, to teach the 7 quotients for a perfect life. They reached the place where GURU'S seminar was to be held, The entry gates read "THE 7Qs™". The seminar hall was a large dome of glass, and aura of the place was full of energy. "Your second life begins now", said GURU, and gave him a jigsaw puzzle. Roy found out it was blank, 21 pieces, wondering where this puzzle will take his life to.

Life's a Puzzle

“Do you know yourself and Your Life's Purpose?” asked GURU, starting the seminar with a question every human asks to himself, but usually is confused about its answer. “Most of them are confused among “keep our children happy”, “earn lots of money to fulfil our family wishes”, “get a good status in our society.” “spend more time with the family” and so on. The answers never end, but there's one more question for them “Is this what they'd imagined when they were young? when they'll be old, will they be satisfied with the way they lived this life? what are their regrets? did they deserve this kind of lifestyle?”

“Everybody seems so happy in their daily life. Waking up, going to the office, shopping with the family, buying luxuries, eating and going back to sleep. Seems a perfect life isn't it. Well it seems to most people because they're involved in the famous “Circle Of Life”. Where they find no exit, but just compromises, sacrifices, fears and regrets in exchange of happiness. Many of us can't live our dream life, because we live our fears. Fear of losing the job, fear of job transfers, fear of excessive debt, fear of losing any loved one, fear of health problems, fear of project deadlines, fear of losing status in the society, fear of losing respect in the team, and so on. Get out of the Circle of Life, start an exceptional life from today with no fears!”

“The only thing you need to do is” Solve the puzzle of your own life”, ask yourself “What am I doing in my life? Why am I doing it?”

Is this the life I deserve? If your answer is yes, then congratulations! you're living your dream life. If "NO", Then ask

"How can I live my dream life that I deserve?" Be confident in yourself. Thinking out of the box is always difficult, but once you get out of it, your life accelerates to a speed you can never imagine, and you'll get to your goals much easier."

"Humans have a tendency to compare" Risk vs Returns", Always remember, with big risks comes big returns, but with big results, comes big responsibilities. So always be responsible to yourself for whatever you do in your life. Blaming others helps losers find an excuse for losing, but you're NOT a loser, you live in life to WIN, without any fear of making mistakes."

"I know human brain has infinite demands. I've seen people getting so many luxuries, health, wealth, time with family, yet they still need more! Their demands are endless, I think the best way to satisfy yourself from these UNSATISFYING needs, is philanthropy. Start giving away to people, whether it is your knowledge, emotional support, charity, awareness, love. There are infinite ideas you can give away to people! This makes you realize that whatever you've in your life, you should be grateful to GOD. There are many people in the world, who are in unimaginable situations today! They need your aid. So move ahead, get more luxuries, money, wealth and everything you need to make you feel prosperous, but remember to give away too, because the satisfaction and love you'll get from helping others, is far too greater than the materialistic charm."

“So move forward, get out of the circle of life. Start thinking exceptional, live an exceptional life, ask yourself “What’s my purpose of life?” and obey to it forever. Know your goals, your dreams, you’ve got only one life, live it to the fullest, make your dreams come true!

“So Don't be average, don't be a part of the crowd! Think different, Do different. Create a difference in your life, you'll make mistakes. But don't be afraid of them, face them, analyse yourself and improve. Your success in every part of life is sure. Don't worry about the people or what they'll say, God has given them mouth to speak, but we've a brain to ignore them! Create your own path Today.”

“Superheroes aren't fantasies. Everyone of us is having a superman inside us! We just need to awaken him by knowing ourself and our powers. Once you know your potential, your powers will eventually appear, you can easily unleash the hero inside you and make the impossible possible!!”

“So Don't be late, start a new life today. This seminar marks the starting of a new life, your Journey to Second Life. Solve your life puzzle today and live a splendid lifestyle. I must thank all of my followers who took the pain to organize such a great awareness mission, but remember I'm no GURU, I'm just an ordinary man, who could show you a path to prosperity, peace, infinite love and support of others. I'm just spreading the knowledge that I gained from my mistakes, success, failures over the years. So, open your mind to new possibilities today, BRING THE CHANGE YOU WANT IN THE WORLD”

With this mind blowing speech, GURU completed his seminar. People went wild after hearing the speech, they clapped and clapped and clapped! The positive aura across the Hall consisting of 50,000 audience was unbelievable. It was the most impressive speech I ever heard, and it got me so much excited that I was dying to learn the 7 puzzles as soon as possible. But I was curious about the blank puzzle GURU gave me in the car.

Finally the moment arrived, after thousands of handshakes and greetings, GURU was finally able to meet me. ”It was the best speech I ever heard” I said. He replied ”The greatness of speech is not decided by the words, but by the excitement and appreciation of the audience.” “Why did you give me the blank puzzle?” I asked.

“Roy, the first step towards your second life begins with the completion of your 1st life. You need to know yourself first. What were your goals, dreams, desires, you need to be well acknowledged about those. You should know what were you doing to achieve them, whether you were on the right path? What mistakes did you make? and how you can improve by learning from them. Find out the answer to these questions, and then you’re ready to learn THE 7Qs™ . Everytime you learn something, write it on the puzzle pieces subsequently. When all the 21 pieces are filled, come to me.”

“But who will guide me to learn about myself?” I asked, expecting him to guide me through it.

“Nobody in the whole world knows you better than yourself Roy. You are unique in this world and nobody else can evaluate you. Don't worry about the guidance, this is a long journey, you'll find the superheroes who'll guide you. Just start self assessment, you'll get the answers and the guidance. Complete this puzzle in seven days, Good Luck, and Have a Happy Journey ahead!”

And GURU shook my hands and left, Leaving me curious about the completion of the puzzle. Can I really take out the superhero within me?
